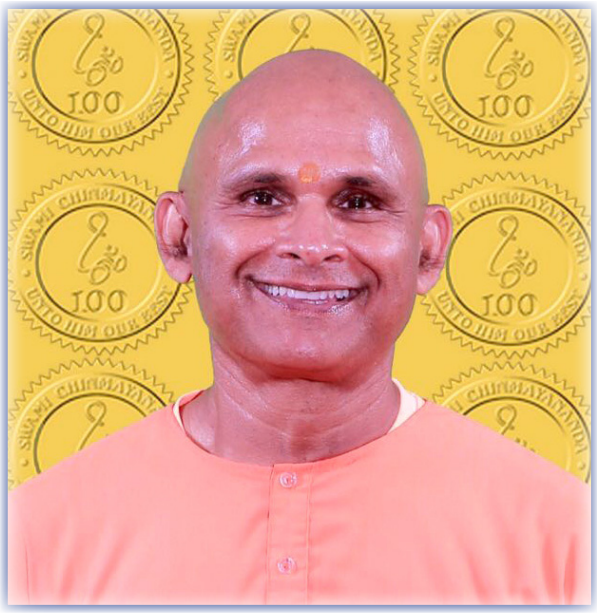
Leadership in Bhagavad Gītā



Retreat by

Swami Sharananda

Fridays, November 3 and 17, 2017

7:00 - 8:30 PM

Leadership-Leading by example

When we observe the immensity, heterogeneity, and precision of the solar system, we cannot but accept the presence of an imperceptible, all intelligent, powerful and omnipresent creator for its existence and operation. If the creator has created this universe, how and why will He create creatures like us in it only to have problems, suffering and unhappiness? To find answer to this universal paradox and go beyond so many scriptures, religions and practices are enunciated. But for an average person they are no effective answer. But a walking, talking person, who has discovered the answer to this million dollar question, is "the answer". Such a person is accepted as a leader of the masses. He/ She does not assert but lead by being a role model. A leader or role model is not born but discovered. What really makes a person a leader, is given in Srimad Bhagavad Geeta, which we will discuss during this retreat.
